

CONGREGATIONAL HEALTH COMMITTEE (non-Standing Committee) RIVERCHASE BAPTIST CHURCH

PURPOSE:

The RBC Congregational Health Committee is an active committee who assists in planning and execution of church programming/events for church members of all ages related physical, social, emotional and spiritual health care needs, support and education.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

Typical responsibilities include but are not limited to:

- Enhances the health of members of the congregation and the community by leading them toward physical, social, emotional and spiritual wholeness in their lives.
- Assists in combining any medical expertise and knowledge with theological concepts to facilitate the mission of the church for healing and wholeness.
- Supports church ministers in situations that require knowledge of healthcare and the healthcare system.
- Leads and mentors' volunteers to serve as members of the Congregational Health team.
- Integrates the spiritual dimension and the faith belief system of the church member in all interactions related to health needs.
- Affirms the faith belief that a Higher Power desires that we care for mind, body and spirit to live healthy lives.
- Assists in planning health related activities/events for all members.
- Builds relationships with church members as related to healthcare needs if there are any.
- Assists in fundraising for Committee endeavors
- Provides prayer and support to church members in all ways, but especially in the area of overall health and well-being.

ORGANIZATION:

Members are solicited and selected annually. The number of members is flexible.

MEETINGS:

An organizational meeting is held at the beginning of the year to review any existing or upcoming needs and welcome new members. The Committee meets every 3 months, or more as needed, for a prayer and planning session.

REVISED: June 2019

CONTACT: Shannon Burns